try list was higher in class than in former years. and the four events were well filled. The class B handicap singles brought out the men who are under the championship class. James S. Myrick and F. H. North played a match in this event which proved one of the features of the opening round. Jimmy Myrick, the crack sprinter of the regiment and one of its star athletes, was on the plus half 30 mark, while his opponent had 30. Myrick did some splendid footwork in this match, and his plac-ing of the ball was worked out in a way that kept North puzzled at all stages of the game. His ser-vice wing also good, but North proved the plugging sort of player that keeps steadily at it, and after three rousing sets North came out in the front rank with the score 6-2, 5-7, 6-2 in his favo

of realizing its full scope and purpose it is to be found in the fact that the National Rifle Associa-tion of America has chosen the two weeks in which the show will be held at the Palace to hold the annual rifle shooting tournament for schoolboys and college students. The ranges will be open every afternoon and evening from 3 until 3 o'clock, and special prizes in the form of cups and individual medals will be given for the schoolboys' team match, the junior marksman's match, the sub-target gun match and the intercollegiate match. For the junior marksmen's match special medals, authorized by the Secretary of War, will be given to schoolboys making a total of 29 points standing and 22 points prone, or a total score of not less than 42 on the rifle range, or 45 in ten shots on the sub-target gun machine. Illustrated lectures on matters connected with forestry, fish and bird life will be given daily by persons who are recognized as authorities on these subjects. The names of the lecturers and the ti-tles of their lectures will be announced from day to day in the programme which will be furnished. In obtaining exhibits of fish and game for the show no expense has been spared, and it is believed that the wild animals, game birds and fish shown will be the finest specimens of their particular familles possible to collect within the boundaries of the United States and Canada. The starter made some mis-take and caused Daniels to lose fully a second at the start. The swimmer, however, rapidly over-took his competitors, and passed them on the sec-ond lap. Then he broke the seventy-five-yard rec-ord, at the end of 41 1-5 seconds. He finished the heat, swimming slowly, ten feet in front of L. E. Manley. Daniels did not swim in the final heat. The event was won by E. H. Trubenbach, of the New York Athletic Club, in a brilliant duel with B. W. King, unattached, both of whom were handi-capped at 22 seconds. Manley was third. The programme wound up with a water polo con-test between a New York Athletic Club team and a team of collegians who dubbed themselves the "All Stars." RACING AT NEW ORLEANS.

Angelus Wins Preliminary Derby

Handicap in a Drive.

Handacap in a Drave. New Orleans, Dec. 21.-Angelus, running in the name and colors of Burlew and C'Neil, won the Preliminary Derby Handicap at the Fair Grounds here to-day. He was about equal favorite with E. T. Shipp and Miss Delaney, around 3 to 1 in a field of twelve starters. McDaniel, who had the mount on Angelus, was wide awake at the start, and the cast-off from the Harry Payne Whitney Stable raced right to the front and hung on long enough to win by a neck from the fast closing Miss Delaney. The latter was a better horse at the weights, but she got away all tangied up, and had to make up six or eight lengths in the stretch. E T. Shipp had early speed, but tired. The sport began with a stunning surprise. Dick Rose, who went to the post at 40 to 1, raced neck and neck with Tea Leaf all the way and won by a neck in a hard drive. Cuernavaca, the favorite, was never prominent.

Marbles, the odds-on favorite in the second race,

Marbles, the odds-on favorite in the second race, again proved a grievous disappointment. She showed a flash of speed, but stopped badly when most was required. Ray Thompson was another heavily played choice to fail in the third race. He, too, had speed for half a mile, but tired. Dainty Belle and Dr. McCluer continued their winning-career and came to the rescue of the form players in the closing races. The former had to be driven out to the last ounce to beat Morti-boy a head, while Dr. McCluer had almost as much trouble defeating Tern's Rod and got up only in the last few strides. At the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Golf Association, on a motion made by John Reid, jr., the president was instructed to exert his influence to have the com-petition held in the early part of October, instead of the latter, as has been customary. While there may be a few who object to playing at that season of the year, because of the uncertain weather, it is equally certain that most of those who represented the Boston, Philadelphia and Metropolitan districts at Brookline are not par-ticularly keen for an earlier date. ticularly keen for an earlier date.

RED PALL UP ON RIVERSIDE RINK. Skaters Jump at Opportunity to Try the Ice

in the Open.

Skaters and hockey players took advantage of their first real opportunity yesterday upon the out-door ice. The Riverside Rink, 113th street, near Amsterdam avenue, was opened, and the big ice surface was in excellent condition. In fact, the schoolboy hockey team of the De Witt Clinton High School tested the lee on Friday afternoon in their first practice, and found it perfect. Some of the Columbia University hockey players made haste to get some work outdoors, and the various class teams are arranging a schedule of matches to be played there. The rink will be the headquarters of a hockey team to be known as the Riverside, com-

The draw of the championship singles made it possible for William B. Cragin, jr., to win his place in the semi-final at the top with only one match. In this he met Morris S. Clark, holder of the doubles Cragin indicated the improvement which he has made in his game during the recent outdoor season. He was very fast at taking the net. Once there he cut off the returns of his opponent, making some terrific cross-court smashes that never gave Clark a fair opportunity to make a return. Clark tried to drive, but at this he was met by Cragin, playing the short game, taking everything on the volley and hitting the ball with severity for place shots the net Cragin was strong, and won at 6-1-3. Cragin, minus half 30, by the score 6-2, 6-2.

King Smith, a former Harvard player, displayed unexpected strength in his championship match against W. A. Conway. The ex-Harvard player depended for his aces on his opponent. His shots that just cut down the side lines always held Conway a little short of the dangerous point of pressing him closely. Conway endeavored to break up the certainty of Smith's placing by lobbing, but the latter took his time at the base line and his long shots from that part of the court were exe-cuted with such speed that Conway's effort was lost and he was aced by being out of position. Smith played with great steadiness and won at
